

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Constant force balance systems will replace Block and Tackle balances in all Seven D Industries double hung replacement windows.

March 1, 2008, Seven D Industries LP strives to keep up with customers' evolving needs. Recent customer research has lead Seven D to make the following product change to Series 3000, 4000 and the new DeGol Designer 6000 Series.

Effective April 15, 2008 the current window balances will be replaced with constant force balances with balance covers. This will be a standard feature in double hung replacement window styles. Based on a 3/4" stainless steel coil that applies a constant force, Seven D replacement windows manufactured with constant force balance systems operate smoothly & easily and will never require adjustment. Attractive color matching balance covers add a finished look to the window interior.
